U.S. ARMY McCLELLAN SADDLE

U.S. Army McClellan Saddle has been the regulation Army saddle since its first adoption in 1858. General McClellan while serving as military attache in Europe with the rank of Captain is supposed to have conceived the idea from the Hungarian Saddle. During the Civil War the McClellan Saddle was in use extensively by the North and South since all men were aware of their merits. After the Civil War the McClellan Saddle had the Skirts removed and the raw-hide covered over with black leather; in this shape it was the regulation until after the Spanish War in 1898, when the equipment was changed to russet colored leather. Complete with girth strap, stirrup straps, coat straps, metal stirrups, never used. Shipping Wt. 20 lbs.

Foreword

Every article is guaranteed to meet top standards of design and performance and to conform with the regulations of the Amateur Fencers League of America, the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the Federation Internationale d'Escrime and the Intercollegiate Fencing Association.

We have been honored in having material selected by the U.S. Olympic Fencing Team, by the Olympic teams of many Latin American nations and by other countries throughout the world. Because of our standards, our innovations, and our understanding of the sport, our equipment has been the preference of the most knowledgeable fencers — truly "The Choice of Champions."

Foils

The foil is considered the basic weapon in fencing. It is used by both men and women. CASTELLO foils are constructed to conform with the requirements of the three great schools of fencing.

The FRENCH foil is the most frequently used.

The French school emphasizes dexterity and relies on deception and quickness of movement. The French foil has a slightly curved handle.

No. 4D French Model Foil. "Olympic." Steel bell guard, traditional French model.

Greater weight in blade gives stronger parries.

7.50 EACH

No. 4DLA French Model Foil. "Championship." Top quality balance and construction. Selected blade. Our finest weapon. Leather covered handle, and aluminum guard for extra lightness.

10.50 EACH

No. 4B Belgian Model Foil. "Pistol Grip." Aluminum anatomically designed finger grip brings greater strength to parries and attacks on the blade.

10.90 EACH

No. 4G "Barbasetti." Model Foil. Blade set on same plane as cross bar, thumb placed on edge of "ricasso" for greater control.

Sabres

There is much variation in the design of guards used in sabres, but handles and grips do not vary as they do in foils and duelling swords.

The most popular model is the Hungarian. The Hungarian sabre is preferred for its lightness and maneuverability. Available with either steel or aluminum guards. Steel is recommended for practice while aluminum is best for tournament fencing.

No. SNA Hungarian model "MODERN".

Exceptional balance and control. Extra light weight, with light aluminum guard.

12.90 EACH

IMPORTANT: Specify whether for right or left handed fencer. Shipping Cost 1.00

Duelling Swords (EPEE)

The duelling sword, or epee, is the weapon which most closely approximates the sword once used in "Affairs of Honor". In tournament competition it is used only by men and the bouts simulate the actual duels of bygone days.

As in foil fencing, the French model is the most popular.

All epees assembled with off-center guards for greater protection against hits on the hand or arm.

No. E French Model Duelling Sword. Gives best point control.

Offset guard affords greater protection for arm and hand, with durable steel guard.

IMPORTANT: Specify whether for right or left handed fencer.

Foil masks are made of light-weight hard drawn steel wire mesh.

OUR masks have been redesigned for greater protection and broader angle of vision. All masks are hot-tin-dipped for rust resistance and longer wear. The trimmings are made of long wearing heavy duck or leather.

Gloves

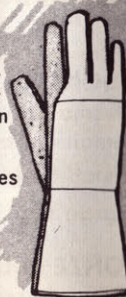

RUBBERIZED HAIR PAD

An exclusive process developed for maximum protection by retaining the brand-new soft resiliency of the padding after long use. Since rubberized hair can not absorb perspiration the glove remains light in weight.
